Sees Democrats Voting as Republicans

HERMITAGE, Ark. (AP) — Bill Wells of Hermitage said Tuesday Democrats might vote in a Republican party primary to help nominate someone they could find easy to beat in a general election.

He said Republicans in North Arkansas had pulled the same sort of strategy by participating in Democratic party primaries.

Wells commented in an interview in connection with the position of Jim Johnson, who has said he is thinking of running for governor in the GOP primary next year.

support for the Saigon government as some antiwar elements have suggested or that he will declare a unilateral cease-fire as others have called for.

Nixon is expected to continue his support of the present Saigon regime and resist efforts for any coalition peace government such as the Viet Cong and North Vietnam have demanded. But the President could suggest a broadened base for the present government.

The idea of a unilateral cease-fire has been frowned upon by Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird. And when Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott called for a cease-fire last week, the Pennsylvania senator received a call from the White House suggesting he clarify his stand to specify that the halt in fighting must have mutual agreement.

Scott also was persuaded to re-emphasize that the call for a cease-fire was his own idea and not something he was advancing for the administration.

The area where Nixon has maximum flexibility is in the withdrawal of U.S. forces from Vietnam. It has been widely speculated he will announce his schedule that could result in the withdrawal of up to 300,000 men by the end of 1970.

Song Causes 50 Negroes to Drop Out

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — Texarkana school officials said that during the school year about 40 Negroes have dropped out of the high school band because they did not wish to play "Dixie," the school fight song.

The statement came following the adoption Monday of a 15-point resolution of policy by the school board. One of the main points in the resolution said that Dixie would be retained as the school song.

Dixie has been listed as one of the grievances presented to the board by Negro parents and students. One petition sent to the board described Dixie as a "song of slavery."

The school officials said the band currently has 90 members, including 14 Negroes.

The board's statement also said that any band member who has been dismissed from the band for failure to play "Dixie," will be reinstated at the beginning of the next semester.

Band Director Ralph Atkinson denied that he had ever dropped a student who refused to play the song. He said they dropped the course by their own choice.

Philadelphia Newspapers Are Sold

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Knight Newspapers, Inc., takes over the Philadelphia Inquirer and Philadelphia Daily News as of Dec. 31 in a $55 million sale announced Tuesday.

The sale, for cash and notes, was made public in a joint statement by Walter H. Annenberg, president of Triangle Publications, and John S. Knight, editorial chairman and senior officer of Knight Newspapers.

Annenberg, U.S. ambassador to Britain, still has a communications empire, which includes Seventeen magazine, radio and television stations, TV Guide and the Morning Telegraph horse racing newspaper.

tion. The Board reviewed the condition of the recent $453,000 federal grant toward a $755,000 project of water, sewer and road improvements to serve Hope's industrial areas and to add additional wells to the Hope water supply. The City is proceeding with a part of the project, consisting of a 12" water line into the north industrial area and into the Meyers Bakery area on the east side of town.

The engineering firm of John E. Hawkins and Associates is completing plans for the rest of the project. Plans should be completed in time for bids to be taken on the work during February of 1970. It is believed that all the work covered in this project can be completed during the year.

The City has recently asked for a release from the federal government on the Recapture Clause" on a part of the Airport property. In the transfer of this property to the City the government retained the right to recapture it during an emergency.

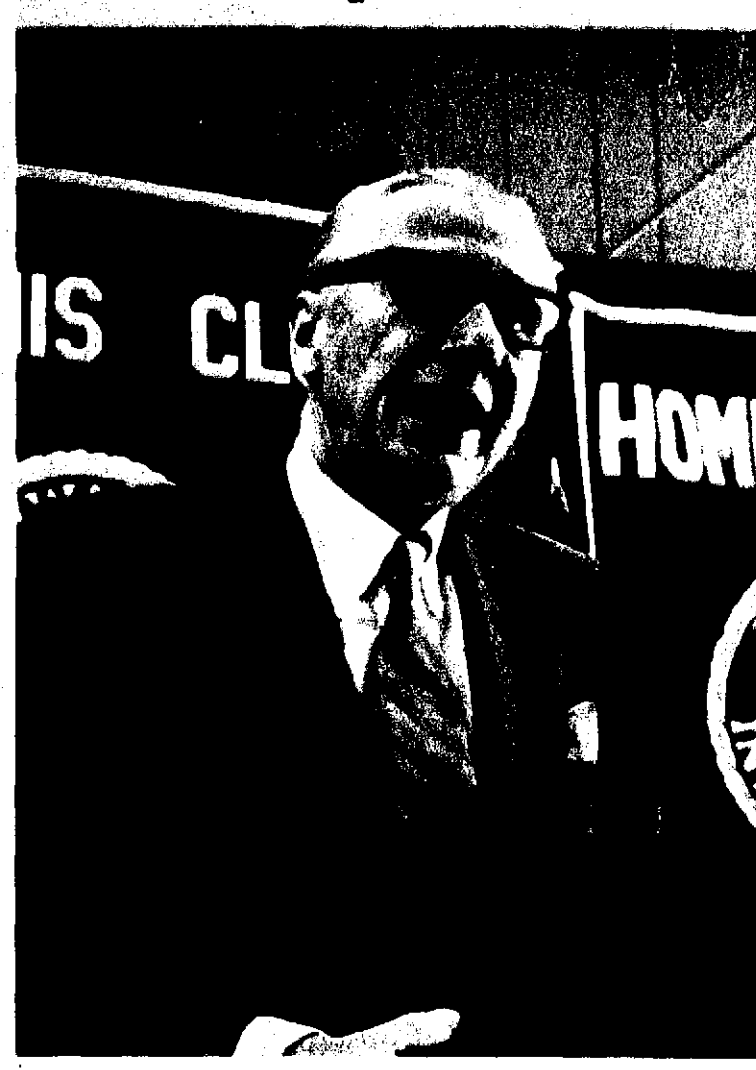

The City has several industrial prospects interested in locating in the Oakhaven area which, if their plans develop, would release this provision if necessary to provide industrial development of the area. This request was made through Congressman John Paul Hammer-schmidt who has taken the request to the Federal Aviation Administration.

A letter from Congressman Hammer-schmidt dated October 23 said that the request was being reviewed by the Southwest Regional Administration of the F.A.A. and that the community should have an answer sometime soon. He has promised to pursue the application through the staff in his office.

The Board discussed the problem of large trucks unloading in the downtown area during the day and also the blocking of Laurel by long truck trailers unloading at Stephens Grocery. They asked that a study be made of this and some solution worked out to relieve the downtown area of this congestion. The City has also asked the State Highway Department to re-study the installation of a traffic light at the intersection of 3rd & Hervey.

A man from the traffic division of the Highway Department was here during the past week and is coming back for a further study. Increasing truck traffic on highway 29 has changed the picture that existed when the highway department ordered this signal removed several years ago.

Kiwanis Speaker

KELLY BRYANT

Arkansas' Secretary of State, the Honorable Kelly Bryant, was the guest speaker at Tuesday's meeting of Hope Kiwanis Club on a program arranged by Harry Hawthorne.

Mr. Bryant discussed in some detail and with illustrated maps the Voter Reapportionment Rule, stating that the One Man, One Vote concept was not actually new but had been brought home to us after rulings of the U.S. Supreme Court on the subject.

Mr. Bryant stated that projections by the Census Bureau which are usually within 1 per cent of being correct show that for the first time since 1940 the population of Arkansas is on the increase and that by 1970 Arkansas will show a population of about 2,000,000 an increase of some 200,000 over the 1940 figure, allowing Arkansas to keep her present number of representatives in the U.S. Congress.

Mr. Bryant also stated that the Census projections show a 1970 population in this country of 202,000,000 with 45 per cent to 47 per cent under 25 years of age.

Jack Riggs, Administrative Assistant to the Secretary of State, accompanied Mr. Bryant and assisted in his presentation of the program. Other guests at Tuesday's luncheon meeting were Mrs. Pat House, Mrs. Harry Hawthorne, Mrs. Eddie Whitman, Mrs. Arch Wylie, Representative Talbot Field, Jr., Jim Cole, Dr. Don Freel, Cliff Stewart, Judge Finis Odom, Sheriff Jimmy Griffin, Bill Eiter, Hempstead's representative to the Constitutional Convention, and Charles "Chuck" Honea, Arkansas Representative from Nevada County.

Light Rain Moves Into Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Light rain moved into Arkansas this morning and was expected to increase tonight and Thursday when a low pressure system moves into Arkansas to take control of the state's weather.

The massive high pressure area of cold, dry Canadian air that has dominated the state's weather for the past two days has moved eastward to the Great Lakes region.

Lingering effects of this high system mixed with the low pressure system was expected to cause widespread precipitation over much of the central section of the nation during the next two days.

Snow was falling along the eastern slope of the Rockies with rain and drizzle reported from Texas, Western Louisiana and Western Arkansas northward to Nebraska.

Highs Tuesday ranged from 62 at Texarkana and El Dorado to 55 at Harrison.

Overnight lows included 36 at Blytheville, 37 at Memphis, 38 at Harrison, 40 at Fayetteville, 41 at Jonesboro, 43 at Little Rock, 44 at Fort Smith, 45 at Pine Bluff and 46 at El Dorado.

During the 24-hour period ending at 7 a.m. today, .10 of an inch of rain was reported at Fayetteville, .02 at Harrison, .04 at Fort Smith and a trace at Texarkana and El Dorado.

Shooting Has Halted Truck Operations

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — A trucking company caught up in a union dispute that led to the death of one man during a gunfight is suspending operations.

"As long as anarchy runs the streets, I will not jeopardize the safety of my men," Jerry L. Stoneburner, general manager of Stony's Trucking Co., said Tuesday night.

Stoneburner's announcement came hours after John J. Gorsline, 25, a Teamsters Union business agent from Cleveland, was fatally shot as a convoy of seven trucks rolled through the gates of the Republic Steel Corp. plant.

Stoneburner said the company would cease operations "until the power struggle" between the Teamsters and the Fraternal Association of Steel Haulers was settled.

the United States and 90,000 overseas.

The picket line disturbances were in Schenectady, N.Y.; Bloomington, Ind.; Lynn and Pittsfield, Mass., and Collingdale, Pa.

Police beat back nonunion workers attempting to cross the picket line in Schenectady, bloodying three, in what they said was an attempt to avert mass violence.

The strike is led by the International Union of Electrical Workers, AFL-CIO, and the independent United Electrical Workers.

The unions have demanded a 90 cents an hour increase over 30 months: 35 cents the first year, 30 the second and 25 in the last six months, plus up to 50 cents extra for special skills.

GE has offered 20 cents an hour in the first year of a three-year pact, with wage reopeners in subsequent years and premiums of 5 to 25 cents for skills. The average hourly pay is currently $3.25.

"It should be realistically realized that our present offer is inflationary — to push it up another notch, as the union officials are demanding, would clearly be superinflationary," the GE chairman and chief executive, Fred J. Borch, told a stockholders' informational meeting in Minneapolis.

Herman Weiss, an aide to Borch, said he had heard indirectly that the unions were prepared to stay out through Christmas.

The present offer will mean an item-by-item price increase in GE products, Borch said.

GE, with $8 billion in annual sales, sells 20 per cent of its output to defense and aerospace programs and about 25 per cent to consumers. The bulk is sold to industry.

Secretary of Labor George P. Shultz has said the government will not intervene, except possibly in scattered plants if war production is held up.

But Shultz said he thought anti-inflationary profit squeezes had led to GE's hard line against union demands.

"If they're going to keep their hands out of it," one labor source said of the government, "they ought to keep their mouth out of these affairs."

$2.1 Billion Foreign Aid Cut Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Foreign Affairs Committee approved today a $2.1 billion foreign aid authorization bill, slashed $542.5 million below the Nixon administration's request.

A 23-6 vote cleared the measure over its initial congressional hurdle and headed it toward probable deeper cuts on the House floor.

Chairman Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., said there undoubtedly would be numerous attempts in the House to make further reductions. He expressed hope, however, that the final House version wouldn't be any lower than last year's $1.97 billion spending ceiling.

Laird today announced 280 actions in the United States and Puerto Rico.

There are 27 other overseas, but these will not be identified until negotiations are completed with governments involved.

Earth Crack Threatening Costly Homes

SAN PEDRO, Calif. — A crack in the earth, getting wider by the hour, threatens to send some expensive cliff-top homes tumbling into the Pacific Ocean.

The fissure runs for a block along scenic Paseo del Mar Drive, which skirts the ocean at the top of a 200-foot-high cliff in this Los Angeles suburb.

Just a hairline crack at first, it caused little concern until it opened into a gaping 300-foot-long fissure at dusk Sunday. Since then it has turned inland and lengthened to 500 feet. The crack is two to three feet wide in places.

City authorities estimated that six ocean front lots were slipping toward the sea Tuesday at three-sixteenths of an inch per hour.

Two homes on the seaward side of the opening were considered in precarious positions. Three guest houses belonging to other residences were given up for lost. At least a half dozen houses on the block were threatened.

The area has a history of land slippage. Pacific waves eat at the base of the cliff and heavy winter rains have loosened blocks of earth along the top of the cliff in the past.

George Smith, whose home developed a huge hole in a wall when earth gave way under the foundation, says waves have eroded the cliff in the 16 years he has lived there and "neither the city nor the county could see any reason for building a retaining wall to stop the wearing."

Tax Reform Work Turns to Individuals

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee is taking up tax relief for individuals after weeks of struggling with more complex tax reform provisions.

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., said he would push at today's session for an increase in the personal exemption on the income tax from the present $600 to $1,000.

This would cost the treasury about $12 billion and probably would provide greater tax relief than the panel would be willing to grant.

The present $600 exemption has been in effect for 21 years. Gore and a number of other senators argue it is completely inadequate in view of the rise in living costs.

However, the Nixon administration strongly opposes any increase in the exemption.

Gore said his plan would be to substitute a boost in the exemption for two features of the House-passed bill — a low income allowance designed to knock millions of poverty-level families off the tax rolls and a cut in income tax rates across the board for all individuals.

These two features would provide $7.2 billion of the $9.2 billion of tax relief in the House version of the bill.

The House measure would grant $2.4 billion more in relief in addition to the $6.8 billion it gains through tax reform. A number of senators have contended their branch should try to narrow this gap, or at least not increase it.

But Finance Chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., has said he would not be surprised if the Senate boosts the tax relief.

Long's committee appears well on its way toward meeting its goal of completing work on the mammoth tax bill by its Friday deadline.

A substantial part of the House reform package has been retained, but the Senate committee has made many changes in it.

The panel added a provision Tuesday which the Treasury said would correct a substantial abuse.

This would put close limits on amounts professional men, chiefly doctors, can put into tax-free pension contributions to corporate pension plans for their benefit.

What sort of information was available on Medico Industries?

— In 1964, a Senate subcommittee headed by Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., listed Medico Electric Motor Co. later renamed Medico Industries, as a place "frequented by" Russell A. Bufalino, whom it described as "one of the most ruthless and powerful leaders of the Mafia in the United States."

— William Medico, former president and now general manager of Medico Industries, was listed in the same report as among the "criminal associates" of Bufalino.

— James A. Osticco, the firm's traffic manager, was present in 1957 when New York State Police broke up the Apalachin conference—a meeting of top Mafia figures from throughout the United States. Bufalino was listed by the McClellan committee as an arranger of and participant in the Apalachin meeting.

Bufalino and Osticco were later convicted in federal court of conspiracy to obstruct justice after they refused to tell authorities what went on at the conference. The convictions were overturned when an appeals court ruled that the government had failed to prove that a crime had been committed.

In 1964, the McClellan committee said the Sicilian-born Bufalino was active in narcotics trafficking, labor racketeering, and dealing in stolen jewels and furs.

Universities Get Music Scholarships

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Checks of $10,000 each were given Tuesday by Miss Lily Peter of Marvel to the University of Arkansas and Arkansas State University to establish music scholarships.

The checks included more than $17,000 from the proceeds of a Philadelphia Orchestra concert in Little Rock last June. Miss Peter underwrote the appearance by the orchestra.

Of the proceeds, $8,621.85 went to the U of A and $8,621.84 to ASU. Miss Peter added enough of her own money to make each check total $10,000.

She also announced that each university would match her contribution.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Jacques Cousteau and his undersea adventures returned to ABC Tuesday for another series of special reports, in this instance a fascinating study of the gray-or-desert-whale.

Cousteau's ocean-going laboratory, the ship Calypso, followed the 35-ton mammals from their summer residence, the Arctic Ocean, through their annual 5,000-mile journey to shallow lagoons off Baja California.

The huge creatures, facing extinction by hunters, return south to mate and bear their young. While Cousteau's cameramen risked their lives repeatedly to get pictures of whale courtship rituals, the animals rolled the waters so it was impossible to get anything on film. The cameramen failed, too, in efforts to film the birth of a whale. But there was some remarkable underwater photography of mating whales.

The most interesting portion of the program showed efforts of the Calypso crew to save a baby whale, injured and stranded on a beach.

While cameras recorded the details, the men treated its wounds, returned it to the water and attempted to substitute a man-made formula for its mother's milk. Since this was a true-life story, the little—ton—whale died. The viewer felt almost as sorry as the Cousteau crew.

ABC's "Movie of the Week" was a 90-minute show called "The Young Lawyers" and it had every earmark of a program designed to become a future series. It was fashioned from the basic recipe used for the popular series, "Mod Squad."

The latter centers on three

How to Handle Witches on Halloween

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—If witches beset you on Halloween, here's what to do:

Take three nails from a coffin and stick them into a sauce of butter and wintergreen. Say the witch's name when you place the sauce in a hidden spot where neither sunlight nor moonlight will penetrate.

Your witch will be sick for six months.

Handed down for generations—at least since the 15th century—this superstition has now been made public by a black-bearded professor who teaches the history of witchcraft and satanism at the University of Michigan.

Marcello Truzzi, son of a circus juggler, is a sociologist who hopes to cash in on the current national cookbook buying binge with a few medieval recipes of his own.

Just in time for Halloween, Truzzi has written "Cauldron Cookery," which reveals such tricks as how to become invisible and how to become a werewolf.

The werewolf recipe calls for an iron cooking pot into which must be dumped water, parsley, opium and saffron. You don't have to eat the glob—it's to attract the devil.

But you do have to rub your body with the fat of a freshly killed cat and put on a wolf's skin. Pretty soon "the great grey shape that makes men

Defense Is Rule in Game With Camden

By: RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

When Hope has played Camden the past few years, the result has mostly been a low-scoring defensive battle. This Friday the two meet again on the Panthers' homecoming, and the same may be in store again.

Both teams have been able to shutout offensive-minded opponents, as Camden downed Warren 6-0 just last Friday while Hope canned Magnolia 21-0.

The Panthers have lost to Crossett (27-6) and Arkadelphia (26-4), but otherwise Camden has run off to a 6-2 mark and a title tie in 4-AA East.

Offensively, George Burke's forces will run from the Texas Wishbond T or "y" formation, and their running game is spearheaded by quarterback Gordon Perham (145) and halfbacks Bill Jordan (145) and workhorse Thomas Danby (152).

Dansby has made the headlines for his breakaway style and kick returns, but a disadvantage for Camden is their below-par passing game. Perham completed only one of 10 aerials at Warren, with one interception, hardly creating a balanced attack.

Defensively the Panthers have blanked Hope for two years running, and will be favored to do the same again with their high ranking in the state Class AA schools.

As you read this, I am in the middle of Washington, D. C. However, the four-day meeting will be over in time for our plane to get back late tonight.

Yerger Junior High's Bob-kittens return to Hammons Stadium tomorrow night at 7:30 p.m. for their season finale against the Fairview Jr. Cardinals.

At 3-4 the Kittens can win for $5,500 season, and Coach Gaylord Solomon has been optimistic over the squad's improvement over the last two weeks.

Thinks Three Teams Have Work Cut Out

By HERSCHEL NESSESON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Tennessee, Florida and Louisiana State have their work cut out for them this weekend as they try to maintain their status as the leaders in the Southeastern Conference. So does Kansas State in the Big Eight and Wyoming in the Western Athletic.

And, above all, so do the unfortunate folks who have to pick these games ... and put it in writing, no less.

Here goes nothing: Tennessee at Georgia—Third-ranked Vols are averaging 39.6 points a game, fourth best in the country. Georgia Bulldogs, No. 11 have allowed only 8.2 points and are ninth in rushing defense. Who says the best offense is a good defense? It says here the best offense is a good offense. Tennessee!

Florida at Auburn—Here's another irresistible force vs. immovable object game. Seventh-ranked Gators, averaging a third-best 39.7 points, are eighth in total offense, second in passing offense and John Reeves leads the country with 20 touchdown tosses. Auburn, ranked 17th, is second in total defense, seventh in pass defense. Reeves hasn't faced a defense like ... Auburn.

Louisiana State at Mississippi—LSU's eighth-ranked Tigers are scoring at a 36.3 clip but their forte is defense—seventh over-all, third against rushing and fourth in yielding points. But LSU hasn't faced a quarterback like Archie Manning of ... Mississippi.

Kansas State at Missouri—Amazing Wildcats, rated 12th, reached a peak in mauling Oklahoma last Saturday while 14th-ranked Missouri was knocked from the unbeaten ranks by Colorado. The pick is ... Missouri to pop the Purple.

Wyoming at Arizona State—Cowboys are ranked 15th, third in total defense and first in rushing defense. But they're also beset by racial troubles, with Coach Lloyd Eaton dropping 14 blacks from the squad.

Fans Admire Lucas After One Game

By JIM CHURCH

Associated Press Sports Writer
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Jerry Lucas has been in San Francisco less than a week, but he and the Warriors' fans already have formed a mutual admiration society.

"This is San Francisco talking," remarked a ticket buyer after the 6-foot-8 Lucas helped the Warriors stifle Milwaukee and Lew Alcindor Saturday night.

"We're frustrated," the fan added, "but we never give up hoping. We want a championship. Getting this kind of player ... Well, you can almost smell a title."

Lucas, a former Ohio State All-American who didn't fit into Bob Cousy's plans at Cincinnati, received a three-minute ovation when he was introduced to the sellout crowd of 7,000 at the Civic Auditorium.

Then he went out and grabbed 22 rebounds, scored 10 points and helped teammate Nate Thurmond hold Alcindor to 16 points.

Lucas expects to be more familiar with the Warriors' offense when he plays with them the second time tonight at the Civic Auditorium against the Chicago Bulls.

"I'm really not in shape since I averaged only about nine minutes a game at Cincinnati," remarked Lucas, 29, who has been on the National Basketball Association All-Star team all six years he has been in the league.

In a trade Friday, the Warriors gave up 6-foot-2 guard Jim King and 6-7 forward Bill Turner, both starters, for Lucas.

Coach George Lee, with good reason, expects to have the strongest front line in the NBA. Lucas ranked third last year behind Bill Russell and Wilt Chamberlain in total NBA rebounds.

The Warriors' 6-11 Thurmond and 6-10 Clyde Lee, meanwhile, had more rebounds than any other two teammates in the league.

Lucas, who has been house-hunting, was determined to come to San Francisco. The Warriors needed him and he needed them, Lucas says.

Two other big forwards the Warriors had counted on, Rudy LaRusso and Rick Barry, were not available.

LaRusso retired and Barry was forced by a court order to play out his contract with the Washington Caps of the American Basketball Association. Barry, a former Warrior star, jumped to the Oakland Oaks last year but did not want to move with them to Washington.

"Cousy told me I was going to be traded," Lucas said. "He wanted quick, shooting forwards ... He was kind enough to give me first choice."

"I chose San Francisco and I'm tickled to death that the deal went through."

At Cincinnati, Lucas and guard Oscar Robertson carried the offensive load, and opposing big men could gang up on Lucas.

"I've never had the chance to play with a good big man like Thurmond," he said.

"I've often said about Thurmond that he wasn't better than Russell on defense and he wasn't better than Chamberlain on offense—but all-around he's better than either. It will be a pleasure to play with him."

Houston Is Leading in Offense

NEW YORK (AP)—Houston's explosive Cougars, gunning for their fourth consecutive total offense crown, pace the nation's major college football teams with an awesome attack that has averaged 530.6 yards per-game.

The Cougars, who have piled up 2,653 yards in five starts, lead second-place San Diego State by almost 200 yards, according to weekly team figures released today.

San Diego State is No. 1 in passing with a per-game average of 335.6 yards. West Virginia and Houston are 1-2 in rushing. The Mountaineers averaging 336.5 yards per game on the ground and the Cougars 329.4.

Top-ranked Ohio State, third in total offense and fifth in the rushing standings, has scored 46.4 points per-game—top in the country.

The Egyptians divided the year into 12 months of 30 days each and added five days at the end of every year.

156 to Tee Off in Rich Kaiser Open

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Golf Writer
NAPA, Calif. (AP)—Pro golf history will be made Thursday when a big, classy field of 156 tees off in "Kaiser Open II," at $140,000 the richest event on the six-stop fall tour.

It's the first time a tournament has been played twice in a single year on the U.S. circuit.

The first Kaiser of the year was played on the fancy, new Silverado Country Club course in January. But there was so much rain and the course became so water-logged that only two rounds were completed.

That tourney went into the books as the first 36-hole event in modern history.

Tournament sponsors almost immediately decided not to gamble further with January weather in this beautiful wine country north of San Francisco and put the tourney on the fall schedule.

Miller Barber, the "Mysterious Mr. X" of the tour, won the 36-hole Kaiser in January. Played well until the U.S. Open in June, but has experienced little but frustration since.

The balding, 38-year-old bachelor led the Open until collapsing with a disastrous 78 on the final round at Houston. But signaled he may be on the rebound with a tie for 14th in last week's San Francisco Open.

The favorite, however, must be slim Jack Nicklaus. Nicklaus down about 20 pounds from his usual playing weight, scored an impressive four-stroke victory in his last outing, the Sahara Invitational, and ranks as the man to beat.

Most of the foreign players have returned home, but the only other major absentees are U.S. On title-holder Orville Moody, Lee Trevino and Julius Boros.

Ouachita Is Leading in Statistics

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The passing combination of Ouachita Baptist University has moved to the top in Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference statistics.

The combination includes quarterback Barry Bennett, a sophomore, and senior Doug Freeze, an all-conference split end.

Bennett has thrown 98 passes, completed 48 for 840 yards and eight touchdowns.

Freeze has caught 30 passes for 531 yards and four TDs.

The leading rusher is Tommy Hart of Henderson with 774 yards. He also leads in scoring with 12 touchdowns plus a two-point conversion, and is tops in total offense with 1,428 yards.

The top punt returner is Cliff Harris of OBU with a 20-yard average. William Jennings of Southern State leads in kickoff returns with an average of 31.7 yards. Southern's Ted Addison is the leading punter with a 39.4-yard average and Roy Hoff of Arkansas Tech is the best in pass interceptions with five.

Napper Gets Player of Week Award

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ

Associated Press Writer

King, with a happy dilemma of three potential starting quarterbacks, has been reluctant to name a starting quarterback before game time this season.

He's been particularly touchy concerning comments about Napper for fear of placing undue pressure on his young signal caller, a true sophomore.

"Critiquing the quarterback is the No. 1 indoor sport," King said.

But Napper is "under wraps" no longer. Napper made his first "start" of the season last Saturday before 27,500 fans in the Cotton Bowl and thousands more on regional television and directed the Raiders to a pressure-packed 27-24 upset victory over Southern Methodist.

Napper kept scoring drives going with key runs and passes to earn The Associated Press Southwest Conference Offensive Player of the Week honor.

Defensive end David Arledge, a sophomore also making his first start for Texas, didn't appear worried about weighing only 180 pounds as he personally dropped the Rice quarterback five times and caused three fumbles to earn the AP's SWC Defensive Player of the Week award.

Napper, who replaced starting quarterback Joe Matulich after two offensive series, completed 7 of 19 passes for 153 yards, including a 77-yard touchdown, and rushed 15 times for 63 yards, utilizing a quarterback draw play effectively.

"I just thought about moving the ball club and scoring," Napper said. "Coach King told me I'd be playing and I was nervous but I don't think I would have been normal if I wasn't."

Napper was unimpressive during his freshman year but came alive during spring drills.

"I got to where I was thinking about throwing the ball," Napper said. "A quarterback can't think about passing while he is passing and that's what I was doing my freshman year."

"I couldn't put the ball where I wanted it because I was thinking about the release too much," he said. "But Coach Tom Wilson worked with me a lot and I just got over it."

Napper stayed in Lubbock most of last summer, working

Hays Thinks His QB Is Best Ever

By GEORGE TRODE

Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Rex Kern is like a lot of Ohio State University's 41,500 students in one respect.

He rolls out of his Phi Delta Theta fraternity bed each weekday morning at 7, ready to tackle a hearty breakfast and five hours of classes.

But Kern is unlike other students. The red-haired junior is the recognized leader of unbeaten Ohio State's football team, driving toward a second successive national title as the nation's top team.

With that, he faces pressures other students on this big campus do not encounter. Fan mail, speaking requests, calls from writers and fellow students wanting to talk about the game are part of Kern's day.

"It's more difficult for an athlete to be a student," admits Kern, a physical education major with a 2.8 scholastic average.

Kern, a quarterback who already owns the Ohio State career yardage record (2,588) after only the fifth game of his junior year, is more in demand than other college athletes speakers. He's deeply religious—he reads the Bible nightly in his room before going to bed—and is an active member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

Kern is one of those athletes who commands the respect of his coaches, teammates, the opposition and writers—not to mention girls.

When he was in California after last season quarterbacking the Buckeyes to a Rose Bowl win over Southern California, Kern made such an impression on Nancy Henno, a game princess, that she transferred to Ohio State.

Woody Hayes, who has spent 19 of his 26 coaching years at Ohio State, calls Kern the best quarterback he's had. And Hayes is a man working on his fourth national championship.

"He combines more versatility than any player I've had at that position," Hayes claims. "He's an excellent passer and runner and knows when to do which. For a youngster he makes few mistakes."

On a powerhouse equipped with at least seven first-rate runners, Kern still has found time to rush for 1913 yards and 15 touchdowns and pass for 1675 yards and another 13 scores.

He's done this despite a list of injuries—dislocated shoulder twice, slipped back disc, sprained ankle and knee problems—and two operations.

Celtics Prove They Can Win Without Russell

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Without Bill Russell in the line-up, Lew Alcindor certainly was the center of attraction, but the Boston Celtics stole the spotlight in the end.

The Celtics finally proved they could win without the retired Russell by bombing the Milwaukee Bucks 120-107 Tuesday night in Milwaukee.

It was Boston's first victory this season after four defeats and they Celtics did it despite Alcindor's 43 points for the Bucks while Russell's replacements at Center, Henry Finkel and Rich Niemann, managed only one point between them.

In other games, the New York Knicks ran their record to 8-1 by swamping the visiting Atlanta Hawks 128-104, Baltimore blasted host Detroit 125-110 and Chicago edged Seattle 116-114.

In the ABA, Carolina turned back Miami 118-103, Pittsburgh shaded Dallas 112-111 and Los Angeles outlasted Denver 126-118 in overtime.

Alcindor, the 7-foot-2 rookie sensation, had 29 points by half-time and the Celtics led only 59-57, but the margin grew to 94-84 after three quarters and a 15-2 spurt buried the Bucks.

John Havlicek's 25 points, Emmett Bryant's 24, and 21 each by Larry Siegfried and Tom Sanders offset Alcindor's performance.

Willis Reed, hitting 18 of his 28 points, led the Knicks to a 62 per cent shooting percentage and a 66-55 halftime spread. It grew from there.

Kevin Loughery was the big man for Baltimore with 33 points as the Bullets beat the Pistons for the 10th straight time. Detroit never got closer than 10 points after the first 14 minutes of play.

Clem Haskins scored three points in the last six seconds in Chicago's squeaker over Seattle. The Sonics overcame a 113-108 deficit with less than a minute to go and went ahead 114-113 with 13 seconds remaining.

Haskins connected on a field goal with six seconds left and was fouled when Seattle put the ball in play. He converted the second of two free throws for the last point.

Player-Coach Len Wilkens of the Sonics set a Seattle Coliseum record of 17 assists and topped all scorers with 28 points. Chet Walker was high for the Bulls with 25.

Baseball Group Plans Meet

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — A board of directors meeting of the Class AA Eastern League is scheduled for Nov. 4, in New York, Thomas H. Richardson, president of the baseball league said Monday.

Richardson said he expects representatives from the Reading and York, Pa., Waterbury, Conn., Manchester and Pittsfield, Mass., and Elmira, N.Y., clubs to attend.

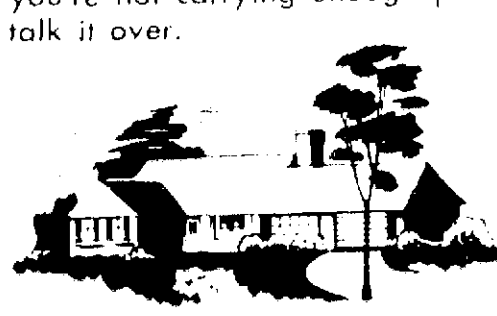

Reforestation Project

The first federal step toward forest management and tree planting was in 1828, when the depleted supply of live oak timber along the southern coasts prompted President John Quincy Adams to launch a project for growing oak trees to protect the future needs of the Navy.

Kansas State Quarterback Sets Records

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
When Lynn Dickey, Kansas State's junior quarterback, goes to the movies, it's usually a double feature—one good film and one bad one.

The good one shows Dickey's hero, Joe Namath of the New York Jets, in action. The bad one is "sort of a horror film" consisting of the 19 interceptions Dickey threw last season.

After his performance in K-State's shocking 59-21 slaughter of Oklahoma last Saturday, Namath should be watching films of Dickey. He might even recognize the white shoes.

All the 6-foot-4, 204-pounder from Osawatomie, Kan., did was set Big Eight records with 28 completions for 380 yards as the Wildcats beat Oklahoma for the first time in 35 years. Included in the barrage were three touchdown passes.

I've never seen a college quarterback do that well. I remember Warren had a great day for Tennessee against UCLA when I was coaching at Tennessee, but it didn't compare with what Dickey did in this game. I've never seen a quarterback do that to a good football team like Oklahoma.

Dickey not only wears white shoes like Broadway Joe, but Osawatomie Lynn has pictures of Namath all over his room and tries to get films of him whenever he can.

"I watch his every move," Dickey said. "I've watched him since he's been in pro ball. I watch his technique more than anything else, the way he sets up, but I even watch the way he walks. I think he's the greatest quarterback around."

The white shoes started when Dickey and teammate John Stucky made a speaking tour of the state last summer promoting Kansas State football before civic and alumni groups. At one function, Dickey was jokingly asked when he was going to start wearing white shoes.

He mentioned it to Gibson, who told him: "If you've got the guts to wear 'em, wear 'em."

Dallas Ground Punch Best in League

NEW YORK (AP) — Calvin Hill and Walt Garrison, the Dallas Cowboys' ground punch, are running one-three in the latest individual statistics released by the National Football League.

Hill, the Yale boy who has become a sensation in the pros, is almost half way to the 1,000-yard mark after six games. An 84-yard night against New York Monday gave Hill 496 yards in 103 carries, an average of 4.8 yards.

Garrison moved up to third with 102 yards against the Giants and a season total of 378, just three behind Larry Brown, the Washington rookie from Kansas State.

Gale Sayers, way down in 16th place a week ago, cut loose for 109 yards against Los Angeles and moved up to the No. 6 slot in the league rushing standings.

Craig Morton of Dallas still tops the passers. Morton had completed 62.9 per cent of his passes for 11 touchdowns and an average gain of 10.27 yards. He has been intercepted only twice, both times in the Giant game.

Roy Jefferson of Pittsburgh still leads the receivers but the pack is closing in. Jefferson has 30 and Harold Jackson of Philadelphia and Dan Abramowicz of New Orleans each has 27.

Fred Cox of Minnesota continues to show the way in scoring with 56 points.

Other individual leaders include Mike Bragg of Washington in punting with a 44.6-yard average, Rickie Harris of Washington with a 13.5 average on punt returns, Jim Duncan of Baltimore in kickoff returns with a 34.1-yard average and Mike Howell of Cleveland with five interceptions.

Oakland's Big Four Are Smashing

NEW YORK (AP) — Oakland's front four and Denver's pass-rush quartet aren't going to break any Olympic relay records this season but they've both been smashing rival quarterbacks at a breakneck pace.

The Oakland foursome, led by big Ben Davidson and Ike Lassiter at the flanks, dumped San Diego's John Hadl three times last Sunday for a season total of 28 sackings.

Denver's front four, spearheaded by tackle Dave Costa, got to Houston passers four times and, after a 10-knockdown day against Cincinnati's Sam Wyche the previous week, led the Raiders by one in the pursuit sweepstakes.

Oakland's 1967 American Football League champs set a season record by smearing opposing passers 67 times. The Raiders also led the league last year with 49 sackings.

Latest AFL figures show the Kansas City Chiefs on top in both passing and rushing defense. The Chiefs have yielded an average of 63 yards on the ground and 141 in the air per game.

The New York Jets are on top in total offense with a per-game net of 366 yards. Oakland's 231-yard passing average and Kansas City's 168-yard rushing mark lead those departments.

Nixon Fires Disgruntled Agency Head

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration has fired the disgruntled head of the Office of Minority Business Enterprise after he publicly urged black businessmen to pressure the government for increased aid to minorities.

Sources said Secretary of Commerce Maurice H. Stans personally ordered Thomas F. Roeser fired Tuesday, not only for his stand on minority business aid but because he openly criticized the way the OMBE was being promoted.

However, the 41-year-old Roeser, a white, former public relations man, was kept on as assistant to Stans with new responsibility "for long-range program planning and policy development."

Abraham S. Venable, a 39-year-old Negro career government employee with experience in equal opportunity programs, was named to Roeser's old position.

Stans, sources said, disagreed with Roeser's view that OMBE should show some firm accomplishments before it sought publicity. The agency has been one of the most highly touted of the administration's new programs, with Stans personally conducting several of its news conferences.

Navy Admits Lobbying for Super Ships

By G. DAVID WALLACE
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy has confirmed the legitimacy of a document detailing lobbying efforts by the service on behalf of a fleet of super transport ships.

But the Navy says the so far futile effort for fast deployment logistic—FDL—ships was an unusual activity by the Pentagon's 339-man lobbying force, which costs $4 million a year.

The Navy's confirmation Tuesday of a four-page fact sheet titled "FDL Public Affairs" came 2½ weeks after a group of student "Pentagon Watchers" sponsored by the private Institute for Policy Studies released the document to news men.

"The FDL Paper," as the institute called it, outlined a comprehensive lobbying effort on Capitol Hill with the help of men from industries bidding for the project.

The Navy described the 1967 document as "a working status report."

In response to written questions whether the FDL program was typical, the Navy's statement said:

"The FDL program was unprecedented in many ways, including its military function, manner of design and proposed total package procurement. The unprecedented nature of the program imposed special requirements, including congressional briefings."

"The FDL Paper" made it clear the number of briefings given congressmen, especially those in key committee positions, depended on whether they supported the fleet proposal, the Navy's billion-dollar answer to the Air Force's giant C5A Galaxy transport plane.

About Rep. Robert L. F. Sikes, D-Fla., chairman of the military subcommittee of the House Appropriations Committee, the paper said: "Sikes enthusiastically supports the program. No further direct action necessary."

The notation for Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., then Senate Armed Services Committee chairman and the man whose opposition was the primary ingredient in blocking the Navy proposal, read: "The senator was not responsive. Direct contact by Army-Navy personnel required."

The paper listed some congressmen as having been contacted by men from Lockheed Aircraft Corp., Litton Industries, Inc., or General Dynamics Corp., the three firms bidding for the project.

Spokesmen for the firms said such exchange of information between the industry and military men was not routine. The Lockheed spokesman questioned the validity of the paper.

The paper listed eight House and Senate members who had already been sounded out on the project and named 10 other congressmen and former White House aide Joseph Califano as due for briefings.

The memo also listed news stories, speeches and union action relating to the proposal, told whether it was favorable or unfavorable and outlined recommended action to try to sway the program's opponents.

The Institute for Policy Studies is co-directed by Marcus Raskin, who was acquitted in the draft protest trial involving, among others, Dr. Benjamin Spock. Raskin also helped organize The New party in protest against the failure of the Democratic National Convention to adopt a more dovish Vietnam plank.

Tom Klein, the student from Larchmont, N.Y., who turned up the document, said it was apparently handed him by mistake with a sheaf of public news releases in the Navy information office.

ets collected eight straight points and Byron Beck's hook shot with 40 seconds left and enabled Denver to tie the game 112-111 in regulation time.

Lehmann, who finished with 27 points, scored six quick points in the overtime the Stars opened a 112-115 lead.

Beck and Walt Platkowski collected 24 points apiece for the winless Rockets, who lost their seventh straight game.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

A VOTE FOR HIPPIE COMMUNES
Dear Helen: I ask that you don't print my name, as there may be repercussions. But I MUST stand up for "US", whose peace symbols and bare feet brought down the wrath of certain smalltowners who figured they were siding with the near-hippie commune.

People always try to make other people act, talk, and look "conforming." They hate and fear those they don't understand, unless they have progressed beyond middle class "norm".

Every new generation dreams of making a better world than their parents did. Each generation of parents resists and fears change.

The Young have acted in ways that may not please my generation (I'm 48) but maybe this is what it takes to wake us up. Too long we've gone on with our wars, race hatreds, money seeking, Victorian but hypocritical ways of life.

The July 18 issue of LIFE MAGAZINE showed a hippie commune that is trying to live what its members believe. I've visited such a commune, so I know the magazine doesn't lie. These people bought their own land. They have money in the bank, should they need it. They ALL work at least four hours a day. When did those hippie-hunting townsmen last split and stack 90 cords of wood in one summer? When did the witch-hunting townsmen last make their own shoes and clothes, washing them on scrub boards after carrying the water; grow their own food, can or dry it for winter, bake their own bread on a wood stove? When were any of them willing to help their fellowman without expecting a reward? Would they care for each other's children, share their food, live—rally live—by their religion?

As for nudity of the hippies and other groups: God made us all in His image and God does not make anything dirty. It is only MAN who considers something God has made as obscene.

I won't say that all communes are like the one LIFE described and the one I visited, but I rather imagine they have this in common: They want to return to the good earth of their ancestors where values were real. Incidentally, the label "dirty hippie" didn't apply. They bathed (in cold streams) and there were no odors around the camp.

One of the members spoke before a club I attend. QUESTION: "Why do you wear these clothes?" ANSWER: "Because I figure if someone takes the time to stop and talk to me when I am dressed like this, he is the sort of a person I can communicate with."

QUESTION: "What about drugs in your group?" ANSWER: "Some try, but we are so high on God now that we mostly don't need drugs."

Whether I approve or don't approve, I feel it is none of my business how my fellowman lives or believes. My generation should listen and learn from the young. Even though they take far-out ways to do it, they're telling us something! Perhaps they may undo some of the evils of society that is has taken older generations centuries to perfect—REGISTERED NURSE

Dear Nurse: I like your "live and let live" attitude because it leads to the next giant step: Learn from the different ones, for they have much to teach—H.

Dear Helen: My husband has become a hunting and fishing nut. Now he insists on taking a week of his vacation on an all male-camping trip. This has gone on for three years, and the bad part is he takes the second week resting up. So it means no vacations for me and the children. He says "Go somewhere by yourselves," but what fun is that? Opinion, please?—PUZZLED

Dear Puzzled: If your husband MUST have his week in the wilds, then he should give corresponding time to his wife and family—and NOT at home in an easy chair. Good luck convincing him!—H.

HOPE NEWSPAPER HISTORY:
The 1929 consolidation joined the two principal newspaper lines dating back to within five years of Hope's incorporation in 1875.
1899—Star of Hope founded as a weekly by Claude McCorkle; converted to an evening daily Jan. 1, 1920, by his son, Ed. McCorkle, publishing until the 1929 consolidation.
The opposition line:
1880—Hope News founded by Lowry Brothers.
1883—Sold to Withers & Johnson, name changed to Hope Telegraph.
1883—Later in same year resold to Claude McCorkle and renamed Hope Mercury.
1884—Sold to James H. Betts, who named it Hope Gazette, under which name it was published continuously until 1922, published by Betts, J.L. Tullis, and Col. W.W. Folsom the last-named dying in 1916.
1916—Purkins & Gates bought the weekly Gazette and made it a companion paper to their new daily, Arkansas Evening Herald—but both papers suspended in 1922.
1926—Plant was revived by Curtis Cannon as the weekly Hempstead County Review.
1927—Cannon sold plant to D.A. Gean, who established the morning Hope Daily Press.
1929—C.E. Palmer and A.H. Washburn consolidated The Star and the Press as Hope Star, with Palmer as president and Washburn secretary-treasurer.
1957—Following Mr. Palmer's death Mrs. Palmer became president.
1969—With Mrs. Palmer's retirement from Star Publishing Co. Washburn became 76 per cent owner and president—balance 24 per cent being held by Texarkana Newspapers, Inc.

Would Erase Model Cities Impression

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration, with troubles enough already over school desegregation, is trying to erase any impression it condones racial discrimination in the Model Cities urban aid program. The Model Cities problem developed when the administrator of the concentrated renewal program told a reporter the government would not veto a neighborhood wish to rebuild on an all-black or all-white basis. "We feel these are local decisions," said the administrator, Floyd H. Hyde, an assistant secretary of Housing and Urban Development. "As long as we are satisfied that the people have had freedom of choice and want to go that route, then we don't plan to interfere."

Hyde has since fired off a clarifying memo to all HUD regional offices after feeling pressure from government civil rights officials. The memo reads in part: "Any local proposal designed to accomplish segregation through discriminatory action would be in violation of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, and would be rejected by this administration. "In addition, whenever a city has, or should have, identified discrimination as one of its problem areas, we are determined that its program will adequately and comprehensively deal with this problem in a meaningful way." But some government civil rights officials remain concerned about Hyde's statement in the clarifying memo that the administration "has not established a policy to use the Model Cities program as an affirmative tool to achieve the integration of a model neighborhood."

Israel Swings Right, Mrs. Meir Wins

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A swing to the right in Israel's national election Tuesday strengthened the nation's hawks and slightly weakened the position of Prime Minister Golda Meir's Labor coalition. But the vote represented overwhelming ratification of Mrs. Meir's uncompromising defiance of Israel's Arab foes and of the condemnations of the United Nations.

There is a story going around town that a couple of local fellows seeking their fortune in the woods with a Geiger Counter thought they had something hot but after some real hard digging discovered an old Prince Albert tobacco can.

Fighting in Lebanon Is Intensified

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Lebanese troops and Arab guerrillas battled today across deep valleys and craggy ridges near the Syrian border while in Beirut, the capital, pro and anti-guerrilla student factions fought at the American University.

The renewed fighting between the guerrillas and the army units centered around Rashaya in eastern Lebanon. The Lebanese government has been trying to curb the guerrillas' attempts to use the country as a base for strikes against Israel, fearing painful Israeli retaliation.

The bark of heavy machine guns and the crunch of mortars echoed through the rocky defiles all day. The exchanges appeared to be from fixed positions, with no evidence of any movement by either side.

The Lebanese army is established firmly and in strength in a fortress which crowns the steep mountain on which Rashaya was built. The Lebanese flag continued to fly as proof that the guerrillas had failed to take the fortress when they launched a frontal assault against it Tuesday. They left half-a-dozen dead by the tunnel-like main gate before they withdrew two miles down the road to the villages of Aih and Kfar Kouk.

These are only a couple of miles from the Syrian border, on the slopes of Mt. Hermon which rises majestically to 9,050 feet.

At the American University, in Beirut, about 200 students supporting the Lebanese government in the dispute with the guerrillas stormed the arts and science building, which had been seized and occupied by leftist pro-guerrilla elements. . . . Shouting "Lebanon and independence" and carrying a Lebanese flag, the attackers ripped down guerrilla posters and photographs of Ernesto "Che" Guevara, the Cuban revolutionary who has been glorified by the Arab guerrilla movement.

The proguerrilla students fought back and a number of students on both sides were injured. Riot police made no effort to enter the university. They guarded campus exits to prevent the violence from spilling into the streets.

In Israel, a swing to the right in Tuesday's national election strengthened that country's hawks and slightly weakened the position of Prime Minister Golda Meir's Labor coalition.

Students to Visit Local Station

MAGNOLIA—Twenty-four agriculture students from Southern State College will attend Forestry Management Study Day at the Southwest Branch Experiment Station in Hope Thursday afternoon (Oct. 30).

They will be accompanied on field trip by Dr. Jack Harrington, associate professor of agriculture at the college.

Cecil Bittle, assistant director in charge of the Station, will guide the students on a tour, giving special attention to tip-moth control and Christmas tree studies, hardwood plantations, job-lolly pine spacing and thinning, wide spacing vs. conventional spacing of pines, and forest management.

In the morning, the Southern State students will tour the Ark-La Chemical Corporation Pineply Plant at Gardon.

Students taking the field trip will be Robert Wood, Bearden; Bennie Garner, Carthage; Charles Hornsby and Lovell Tollett, DeQueen; Jerry Colvin, Donaldson; John Hicks, Morgan; Sinclair and Dale Cromer, El Dorado; Johnny Morris and Ricky Roady, Gillham; Jerel Jones, Greenbrier; Gary Rowe of Hope.

Also Thomas McDonald, Junction City; Eddie Turner, Kirby; James Barnett, Murfreesboro; Richard Jackson, Patmos; James Duke, Prescott; Lynn Brown, Rolla; Ronald Montgomery, Smackover; Thomas Sawyer, Strong; Michael Bentley, Texarkana; James Renfro, Waldo; Robert W. Mrs. Reynerson Resigns as City Clerk

Mrs. Frances Reynerson submitted her resignation as City Clerk to the Board of Directors at their regular meeting last night. She is leaving to accept a position on the staff of the Southern Baptist Assembly in Glorieta, New Mexico, and asked that the resignation become effective December 1.

Mrs. Reynerson has been employed by the City for the past 22 years. For 10 years she assisted her husband, the late Charles F. Reynerson, who had been City Treasurer for 31 years. Mrs. Reynerson was made City Clerk and Treasurer in 1957 when Mr. Reynerson's health forced him to leave the position.

The Board expressed its deep sense of regret and commended her for the many years of dedicated and efficient service she has given to this city.

The Board approved the City Manager's recommendation that Mrs. Sally Andrews be appointed to this position. Mrs. Andrews has been employed in the City Manager's office since 1962, and in this position has served as deputy City Clerk and is thoroughly familiar with the routine of the office.

The Board of Directors also approved the employment of Paul Henley as Director of Parks and Recreation. Henley is a recent graduate of Hendrix College at Conway with a B.A. Degree in Social Science. He has worked in the summer recreation program since the latter years of high school, and during the summer while he was attending college. In recommending him for the position the City Manager pointed out that his educational background and experience in the Hope recreation department made him well suited for the position.

Governor Told to Take Rest

WINROCK FARM, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, experiencing "a little bit of a high blood pressure problem," will spend this week resting at his Petit Jean Mountain farm, an aide said Thursday.

Bill Conley, the governor's press aide, said a doctor had advised the rest and wanted Rockefeller to lose some weight. Conley said nothing is seriously wrong.

Thinks a Frustration Feeling Reflected by Those Who Wear Boots

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:
The wearing of boots is popular today with both young men and young women, and probably this reflects a feeling of frustration about our present society common to both sexes. They seek peace of mind, but the boots symbolize their unconscious, aggressive desire to stomp on whatever is bothering them and crush it.

Everything costs twice as much or more than it used to, but the inflationary spiral won't really reach its peak until men start tipping hawkeeb girls four bits instead of a quarter.

Many people now are turning to painting as a way to express themselves. This is a fine idea, but the trouble with encouraging them by praising one of their paintings is that they are likely to press it on you as a gift. This means that, whenever they visit you, it is necessary for you to run down to the basement or scurry up to the attic to find where you hid it, then dust it off, and hang it on the living room wall until they leave. That is simply too much to ask in the name of art.

Nothing is impossible to a man who has the character to eat eight prunes for breakfast every morning of his life not because he likes them but because someone in his youth once told him they were good for him.

How much more romantic the world might seem if the same fine creative musical talent that is expended on television commercials was spent in composition.

On the battlefields, the allied commands reported another series of small scattered clashes in which 207 enemy were killed, 22 of them by air strikes. The U.S. Command's communique listed one American killed, a helicopter crewman whose light observation craft was shot down Tuesday 50 miles northwest of Saigon. Another crewman was wounded.

The results are expected to cause no significant changes in the defense policies of Mrs. Meir's so-called National Unity government which contains members of all major factions including Gahal. But Gahal, having gained while Labor lost ground, may demand one or more key Cabinet posts instead of its present two ministries without portfolio.

Gahal advocates outright annexation of the Arab lands captured in the 1967 war. Labor's campaign platform was to release none of the occupied territory until peace is reached, and then to retain any territory needed for Israel's security.

The voting shift to the right was also viewed as a boost for Defense Minister Moshe Dayan, who contends that Israel's security requires retention of the Syrian Golan Heights, the Gaza

Escapes Back in Custody

HEBER SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Two men who escaped Monday from jail at Marion are back in custody.

Edward Trimm, 29, of Searcy was caught Tuesday by sheriff's deputies near the Little Red River east of Heber Springs. He was on foot. James L. Estes, 18, of Memphis, was arrested Monday near Heber Springs.

They got out of the jail by sawing through bars of their cell.
